ABOUT ME

I have been a React Front-end Developer for about 20 months and since then, the academy where I was trained, selected me to be a JavaScript tutor. On the other hand, I carried out and participated in freelance projects for different companies and organizations.

I am looking forward to perform in my next job as a developer implementing my knowledge and skills, and with the enthusiasm to acquire and grow even more. I am an optimistic and perseverant person, I am predisposed to act and perform the necessary work, following the objectives set. I choose teamwork as an indispensable means to face a project effectively, attentive to the improvements that are within reach, achieving that it complies with the requested.
